2.4.6 Report of the events organized

Planning and Scheduling Academic, Cultural and Sports Events in Schools

The student enrichment activities in the B.Ed. curriculum have strengthened the teaching-learning process. The student teachers are divided in groups and involved in seminars, group discussions, micro teaching practice in order to develop cooperation in all activities. For the purpose of holistic development of the student, the institution offers both curricular and extracurricular activities.

The college's morning assembly is an essential component of the educational process. Regular college assemblies are being implemented to foster community and a positive college culture. The student teachers are motivated to implement their creative idea for the theme-based morning assembly and bring out a unique spirit inside.

Model Making competition is organized by Physical science, biological science and Mathematics department to enable student teachers' ability to make working and non-working models. The student teachers use this experience in making models for effective teaching during their internship.

National Wildlife Week 2020 was celebrated by Department of Biological Science by organizing various educational programmes to promote wildlife conservation. A seminar on Green Roof Garden and Medicinal plants and their uses was organized. The main motive for celebrating of wildlife week is to raise awareness among student teachers about wildlife conservation and protection. So that every citizen becomes informed about wildlife in order to make awaken about wildlife protection in India.

Planning and Execution of Community related Events

As a part of B.Ed. Programme, the significance of curricular and co-curricular activities is oriented to the student teachers. Various clubs of the college conduct meetings with the student representatives to plan cultural and outreach activities. The student teachers plan and organize women's day, awareness on need to wear mask during the pandemic period, dengue awareness, road safety, visits to old age home, cancer institute, and AIDS rehabilitation center. These activities awaken creativity, cultural awareness and development of aesthetic sense of student teachers.

Building Teams and Helping them to Participate

The college organizes model making competition, micro teaching sessions, co-teaching, to cultivate team spirit and co-ordination among student teachers.

In addition to academics, student-teachers need to be involved in co-curricular and extracurricular activities to develop into all-round personalities. The college offers a lot of scope for students to participate in co-curricular activities. Student-teachers get involved in arranging academic, cultural, sports, and community-related events in order to accomplish the same in the respective schools. Planning, carrying out, and reporting are essential for the organization of any event and student teachers learn to plan and carry out by taking part in the activities organized by the college. The college conducts sports which improve self-esteem, leadership abilities, emotional fitness, discipline, teamwork, and cooperation among student teachers. Annual citizenship camp conducted every year that provides training to help in the development of the student teacher's personality, character, and enables them to realize their full potential.

Executing/ Conducting Events

The institution rigorously plans and coordinates each event with the participation of the teachers and the student body. It oversees the team for efficient event implementation and prudently assigns the job to its human resources. The student teachers are constantly supported, guided and facilitated by the teacher educators for planning, organizing the events successfully.
